Every doctor makes mistakes. But, says physician Brian Goldman, medicine's culture of denial (and shame) keeps doctors from ever talking about those mistakes or using them to learn and improve. Telling stories from his own long practice, he calls on doctors to start talking about being wrong.

1. List three things that you learned from this video.

2. Share a situation in which you made a mistake, and after talking with others, what you were able to learn from this situation.

3.	What advice would you offer to someone who makes a major mistake?
