Earthquake Drill October 17, 2013 at 10:40am
What You Need To Know

What will happen on the October 17th?

On October 17th the college will be conducting an earthquake drill at 10:40am. Faculty and staff are expected to participate.

During the drill, the College will open and operate the two Emergency Assembly Areas for the main campus (see map below). The Emergency Assembly Areas will be used during an actual large scale emergency/disaster to gather information and to give information out about what happened and what to do. Beginning at 10:40am on October 17th the following things will happen:

10:40am
The following message will be sent out via the College’s various emergency communications systems.

TEST: The Earthquake Drill has begun. Please evacuate buildings and proceed to the assembly areas – Follow instructions of your faculty or staff. TEST

In some buildings Area Coordinators will also be telling people that the drill is on and to please go to the appropriate emergency assembly area.

FACULTY: Please tell your class that in an actual earthquake to duck, cover, and hold on to something then ….

1. Take your classes to the appropriate Emergency Assembly Area (have students take their personal property)
2. Check in at the information table with the person in the yellow vest.
3. Pick-Up a emergency information pamphlets and pass them out to your students.

10:55am
The following message will be sent out via NVC Communicate & email.

TEST: The Earthquake Drill had ended. You may return to your regular activities. Thank you for participating. TEST

Area Coordinators
The College has appointed individuals in many areas of the campus to help coordinate emergency activities.

Coordinators can be identified by a distinctive yellow vest and are trained to assist in evacuations or shelter-in-place situations. More information about Area Coordinators can be found at www.nvcpd.org.

Emergency Posters
All the classrooms on campus have emergency information posters that provide essential emergency information. Expanded emergency information is available at www.nvcpd.org

South side of campus go to the lawn area
North side of campus go to the track.

For more information go to www.nvcpd.org