

Creating an Interactive Syllabus in MS Word

(more resources)

- Interactive syllabi can be built in many formats including: web (html) based, hyperlinks in MS Word, Powerpoint, etc. , blogs, etc. The basic principle is the same—the text of the syllabus is no longer static but filled with links and multimedia.

Research and resources:

Create, format and delete hyperlinks in MS Word:

<http://office.microsoft.com/en-us/word-help/create-format-or-delete-a-hyperlink-HA010165929.aspx>

Word 2010 - Insert And Modify Hyperlinks - Microsoft Office 2010

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=S-TyAzl1Occ>

How to Add Hyperlinks to Word and Convert to PDF

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=F96lUTMkYHY>

“For the instructor, the Interactive Syllabus is a relatively simple way to engage students with different learning styles in unstructured explorations with a variety of content-rich media.”

<http://net.educause.edu/ir/library/pdf/EDU01108.pdf>

web-based picture interactive syllabus

<http://www9.biostr.washington.edu/cgi-bin/DA/imageform>

Weekly web-based interactive syllabus

<http://faculty.smu.edu/bwheeler/kinga/syllabus.html>

Librarians and the interactive syllabus

<http://designerlibrarian.wordpress.com/tag/interactive-syllabus/>