Pontifical University of Salamanca

Pontifical University of Salamanca (UPSA) was founded in 1940 in order to maintain the old ecclesiastical faculties of the University of Salamanca. University of Salamanca itself was founded by King Alfonso IX of León in 1219 and was definitively established, in its twofold royal and pontifical character, by Alfonso X the Learned in May 8th, 1254. The university enrolls approximately 8.500 students and (it) offers more than 40 official degrees, postgraduate courses. The principal site of the Pontifical University is situated in Salamanca, a university city of excellence, in which more than 40.000 university students live. Its streets are full of culture carved in stone, like the House of the Shells (la Casa de las Conchas), the Cathedrals or the Main Square (la Plaza Mayor), and of living knowledge. Furthermore, this city has been converted into a world icon of the Spanish teaching, and for this reason every year thousands of foreign students approach the language of Cervantes in the cobbled streets of Salamanca. Please look at their www. http://www.spanishcourses.upsa.es/ for further details of the program.

Excursions & Activities

SALAMANCA is a city known as La Dorada because of the golden glow of its sandstone buildings. It has also been declared by UNESCO as a World Heritage Site, one of 5 cities in Spain that has been given that honor. There are many famous monuments, such as the Cathedral in plateresque style with magnificent sculpture inside; the University of Salamanca, whose façade has numerous figures including the elusive "frog" and on Calle Calderon is the Unamuno Museum where the poet and rector had his office. There are many other landmarks in this town of Renaissance palaces and courts, 16th Century convents and legendary statues, as well as the famous El Puente Romano, the Roman bridge over the Tormes River. The city offers also weekly concerts, lectures or theater in various plazas throughout the city, and features one of the prettiest baroque squares in Spain, the Plaza Mayor.

ÁVILA's churches, palaces and the oldest and best-preserved city walls in Spain are recognized by UNESCO as a World Heritage Site. Ávila changed hands numerous times between the Christians and Muslims over 300 years and emerged as a center for commerce. The city is also known as the birthplace of Santa Teresa de Jesús 1515 - 1582 and where she became a nun at the Convento de la Concepción.

SEGOVIA This city is in the heart of Old Castile with its spectacular 12th Century Moorish castle-fortress, the Alcázar. Here also discover the engineering genius of the 2000-year old Roman Aqueduct, and explore the Gothic cathedral on the spot where Isabella was proclaimed queen.

Spain

The Iberian Peninsula has a long and full history, dating from long before the Roman arrival, to the Visigoths, and Moors. With the completed re-conquest of Spain in 1492, the Spanish monarchs embarked on an unequalled campaign of exploration and conquest. With the defeat of the Armada, the Napoleonic Wars, the Spanish-American War, and the Spanish Civil War, the Spanish empire was reduced to a few small outposts. Interwoven with these political, religious and military struggles, however, is a rich culture produced by literary masters, musicians, artists, and architects. The countryside is full of monuments, from Roman aqueducts and magnificent castles, to immense cathedrals and Moorish palaces. The Spanish Language Study in Salamanca program provides students with a first-hand experience in discovering the country, its colorful past, its people and language.
