Methods of Evaluation

Methods of Evaluation

Types	Examples of classroom assessments
Class Participation	Students engage in discussion about play structure.
Homework	Students create a written analysis of a scene from a play to include beats, objectives and tactics.
Oral Presentations	Students present a biography of the character they are reading from a play.
Performances	Students perform a rehearsed reading of an entire play before a live audience.

Assignments

Reading Assignments

Selected readings from textbook, periodicals or library collection covering and expanding on lecture.

For Example:

Read Chapter 1, focusing on active analysis

Read Chapter 3, describing the the role of conflict in plot

Writing Assignments

Written evaluations of plays viewed in class.

For example:

1. Write a three-page, character analysis of I Am My Own Wife by Doug Wright
2. Topical essays expanding on course material.

For example:

Write a three page paper comparing comic and tragic plays.

Other Assignments

Research paper or other writing projects that develop a related topic.

For example:

Students are to select a paper topic covering a critical analysis and evaluation of the artistic elements of film noir covered in the course this semester. This paper is designed as a research project and students are expected to go beyond the level of information found in the course textbook. Students must find a minimum of five sources for this paper. Of those five, no more than two may be periodical sources and no internet sources are allowed, except where students can demonstrate the academic verifiability and validity of a source. Paper will be in the MLA format using parenthetical citations. The body of the text must be a minimum of 7 pages and no more than 15. Work will be graded on a 50 point rubric that evaluates format; development of the body of the text including a thesis, relevant examples, integration of research, conclusion and merit of original premise; punctuation; grammar; bibliography; citations; and use of images.
