

LICENSED PSYCHIATRIC TECHNICIAN - RECOVERY HOME STAFF MEMBER

ABOUT THE COMPANY

Camden Residences provides integrative housing to patients in recovery from mental health and/or addictive disorders. Camden Residences recovery homes are non-medical/non-licensed facilities whose purpose is to enhance and promote each resident's recovery by supporting their emotional, physical, and nutritional health in a peaceful, structured, and collaborative environment. Our large, modern houses are in safe, desirable neighborhoods and feature meals prepared by a professional chef, weekend events and activities, complimentary transportation, and a close-knit, supportive recovery community.

Many residents at Camden Residences attend intensive outpatient treatment at Camden Center, a mental health and addiction treatment center that offers comprehensive, evidence-based treatment for psychiatric and addictive disorders. Established and operated by physicians, Camden Center is one of the only mental health and addiction treatment centers in the United States that operates as a Professional Medical Corporation. This unique structure permits Camden Center to provide truly comprehensive treatment to patients, with psychotherapeutic, somatic, and medical modalities integrated into a personalized and complete treatment plan for each patient. Camden Residences provides non-medical/non-licensed integrative services in a communal home for patients in treatment at Camden Center (or other treatment centers) who require a structured living environment.
